

International Week of Action Against the Militarization of Youth

Would you like to take action against the militarization of youth? You can join War Resisters' International's week of action from 14-20 November (as an individual or as a group).

War Resisters' International is organizing the 2nd International Week of Action Against the Militarization of Youth this year from 14-20 November. The week is a concerted effort of antimilitarist action across the world to raise awareness of, and challenge, the ways young people are militarized, and to give voice to alternatives.

Last year saw the first ever international Week of Action whose main focus was education and research. Many groups in various countries including Canada, Germany, South Korea, the state of Spain, the USA, Israel and the UK took action to call for an end to the military's role in education and research. This year we are expanding our theme from education to all other public spaces where we see military engagement with young people.

Militaries are everywhere!

Today we see militaries everywhere from schools and Universities to job and career fairs. "Militainment" events are more common than ever in many countries where we see militaries promoting war as an "entertaining" business to children and young people. Our public spaces have long been occupied by monuments and statues glorifying wars rather than reminding the youth of the victims and devastations of war. The examples are multiple and warrant further action and exploration.

If you want to get involved this year please contact us via cmoy@wri-irg.org. You are welcome to arrange your own autonomous actions, using the name and the logo below (a version in Spanish and German will follow) - if you would like to make another version in your own language, email cmoy@wri-irg.org for a copy. Please visit www.antimili-youth.net for updates and further information.

- Not sure what to do? Get in touch and we can discuss action ideas with you, or put you in touch with others in your country who are already planning something. Also see here for the events last year.
